Dear Parents,

As part of our literacy program, your child will be asked to speak about specific topics each week.

As the development of oral literacy skills is important, we ask for your assistance in helping your child make a meaningful contribution to this program.

You could help your child by listening to their presentation at home, asking simple questions and encouraging them to answer in sentences.

The topics for this term are listed on the following page, as well as your child's day to present their talk.

We look forward to hearing your child's news!

Thank you for your continued support,
